MAC Group Opens New Corporate Headquarters

Company plans for continued efficiency and future growth

North White Plains, NY (May 15, 2012) – MAC Group, a leading manufacturer and distributor of professional photographic and video equipment, has recently completed the relocation of its corporate headquarters to North White Plains, New York. The new facility consolidates several previous locations, expands office space, increases warehouse storage, and features new studios for video and audio productions.

“By consolidating all our locations under one roof, we’ll be providing quicker response to both our customers and our dealer network,” said Jan Lederman, President of MAC Group. “For 24 years we’ve been known for our outstanding customer support, and this move only strengthens our ability to provide first class service and support like no other organization in our field.”

A freestanding building, the new headquarters features state-of-the-art technology, security, and amenities for MAC Group’s increasing staff. With aggressive plans for growth, both with current brands focusing on still photography and new brands focusing on tools for filmmakers, MAC Group is continuing to reinvent itself.

MAC Group is now located at 75 Virginia Road, North White Plains, NY 10603. For more information visit: www.macgroupus.com or call 914-347-3300.
